ASSOCIATION CARNEVALSPETTACOLO, ITALY

Raise awareness about child labour in Italy through music, art and educational events

Name:

Today Project

Description:

The Carnevalspettacolo Association of Ghemme (Novara - Italy) proposes to Italian Institutions the "Today Project".

The project is named after the song by Maria Olivero "TODAY Say No to Child Labour" and a new initiative which will allow artists worldwide to add their voices to the chorus of the song using specially designed software will be presented.

It is a project dedicated to schools and will be free of charge.

For primary school students (ages 6 – 11):

- The game of puppets in cardboard: colouring, cropping, and pasting tabs. They become puppets, they are inspired by the characters of the Pinocchio Canvas, well known by the ILO, since 2008.

For Grade I Secondaries students (ages 11–14):

- The song "Today Say No To Child Labour". The music score for voice and guitar, string orchestra, philharmonic bands will be online and will be for free download. The project will be presented in autumn.

Implementation plan:

We will raise awareness about child labour in Italy through music, art and educational events, which will act as means to broaden collaboration on tackling child labour and reach out to new partners and audiences.

Impact:

The Today Project initiative will allow us to raise awareness about child labour and inspire action towards its eradication.
