GRAMEEN FOUNDATION, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Finalize a toolkit to support women's economic empowerment actors in reduction of child labor

Name:

Finalize a Toolkit to Support Women's Economic Empowerment Actors in Reduction of Child Labor and Unacceptable Working Conditions

Description:

Grameen Foundation has created a toolkit for women's economic empowerment actors to Learn-Listen-Act-Monitor potential unintended negative consequences such as child labor and unacceptable working conditions through its RICHES project. The tools are designed to help them evaluate risks and improve internal policies, as well as support and build awareness with women entrepreneurs. As we work toward completing the pilot and finalizing these tools, other organizations will be able to find them here: <https://grameenfoundation.org/riches/>, and we will organize communications events around the toolkit.

Implementation plan:

Finish Pilot, Finalize and publish tools, Implement the communication and outreach plan.

Impact:

We are focused on building awareness among women's economic empowerment actors around child labor and providing tools toward action and solutions. We are building the information and experience to help WEE actors get involved in ending child labor and by joining the Action Pledge would like to share the tools and our lessons learned with a wider audience.
