Work with all affiliated trade unions to support ILO's call to end child labour

Name:

HAK-İŞ says no to child labour

Description:

HAK-İŞ Confederation will continue to work with all affiliated trade unions to support ILO's call to end child labour.

In this context, the following actions are planned for 2021:

On 12 June, the World Day Against Child Labour, we will publish a press release;

Visual content will be designed on the subject;

In order to increase the awareness of HAK-İŞ members on combating child labour, this issue will be included more frequently in trade union activities.

Implementation plan:

HAK-İŞ Confederation will give an important place to this issue in trade union activities and training activities in order to contribute to the struggle process.

In addition, HAK-İŞ Confederation will continue to contribute to the efforts of the Ministry of Labour and Social Security to combat child labour.

Impact:

HAK-İŞ Confederation is one of the largest confederations in Turkey, with more than 710 thousand members and 21 affiliated trade unions, and it is organized in all 20 sector branches in Turkey.

HAK-İŞ Confederation considers union organizations very important in terms of preventing unregistered employment, ending child labour, and creating decent jobs.

In this context, considering the representation power of the HAK-İŞ Confederation, we will contribute to the increase of awareness in the fight against child labour in organized workplaces, individuals, families, and ultimately in society.
