

ORGANIZATION

International Committee for the Development of Peoples, Kenya pledges to

End child labour through the development of Kakamega County Children's Policy

End child labour through the development of Kakamega County Children's Policy

Name:

Ending child labour through the development of Kakamega County Children's Policy

Description:

The development of the Kakamega County Children's Policy and its approval by the Governor will provide a clear framework on how child abuse cases, including child labour, will be addressed at the county level, taking into context the particular drivers of child labour in Kakamega.

Implementation plan:

- Through routine engagement with stakeholders, including the county government and Department of children services;
- Consolidating views from the stakeholders' workshop by the technical team;
- The enactment process shall be fast-tracked;
- Dissemination and sensitization of the policy at the county level

Impact:

The Kakamega county Children's policy will support the allocation of the budget for child protection programmes, that will promote children's wellbeing through supporting specific interventions related to child labour, such as

- The establishment of a rescue center;
- The support sensitization sessions on child labor;
- The capacity building sessions of the key actors on child labour;
- An additional human resource to handle child labour cases.