Registering our children, promoting schooling and building the future

Name:

Registering our children, promoting schooling and building the future

Description:

Launch of a civil registry registration campaign for children from single-parent homes in rural areas in Mauritania (consequence of slavery by descent).

Implementation plan:

Issue of lack of awareness, without a local administrative authority, inaccessible, without resources to travel

- Awareness-raising campaign to deal with the lack of awareness;
- Logistical and material support to access the civil registry.

Impact:

The Special Rapporteur on contemporary forms of slavery has asked that measures are taken to re-establish the rights of children of former slaves, particularly the registration of their birth including their national identity, the reunification of children with their families and access to schooling.

Registration facilitates and encourages access to schooling and basic social services. It prevents child labour.
