Africa regional consultation
In preparation of the V Global Conference on Child Labour (South Africa, 2022)

18-19 November 2021
Hybrid event in Johannesburg, South Africa

CONCEPT NOTE

BACKGROUND

Child labour remains a persistent problem in the world today. The latest global estimates indicate that 160 million children – 63 million girls and 97 million boys – were in child labour globally at the beginning of 2020, accounting for almost 1 in 10 of all children worldwide. Seventy-nine million children – nearly half of all those in child labour – were in hazardous work that directly endangers their health, safety and moral development.

Global progress against child labour has stagnated since 2016. The percentage of children in child labour remained unchanged over the four year period while the absolute number of children in child labour increased by over 8 million. Similarly, the percentage of children in hazardous work was almost unchanged but rose in absolute terms by 6.5 million children.

The global picture masks continued progress against child labour in Asia and the Pacific, and Latin America and the Caribbean. In both regions, child labour trended downward over the last four years in percentage and absolute terms. Similar progress in Africa has proven elusive. This region has seen an increase in both the number and percentage of children in child labour since 2012. There are now more children in child labour in Africa than in the rest of the world combined. Global child labour goals will not be achieved without a breakthrough in this region. As a reminder, Target 8.7 of the 2030 Agenda’s Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 8 commits all United Nations (UN) Member States to “take immediate and effective measures to eradicate forced labour, end modern slavery and human trafficking and secure the prohibition and elimination of the worst forms of child labour, including recruitment and use of child soldiers, and by 2025 end child labour in all its forms”.

In February 2020, African Heads of States adopted the Ten Year Action Plan to Eradicate Child Labour, Forced Labour, Human Trafficking and Modern Slavery (2020-2030). This Action Plan provides an immediate framework for mobilizing African Union institutions, Member States, Regional economic Commissions (RECs) and other partners on the continent to scale up efforts and accelerate progress towards the achievement of the AU Agenda 2063 and target 8.7 of the Sustainable development goals. This involves ending child labour by 2025 and forced labour, human trafficking and modern slavery by 2030. The Action Plan focuses on a critical set of interventions that can bring rapid results. It also specifies primary implementation responsibilities between country, regional and continental levels.

Since 1997, countries have found a forum to discuss, share good practices, advance policies and commit to the elimination of child labour in successive global conferences. The conferences resulted in a series of declarations, which serve to identify policy priorities and mobilize political support for the elimination of child labour. The Government of South Africa will host the V Global Conference in 2022.

The V Global Conference will convene with only three years left to achieve the 2025 child labour target, and eight years to achieve the 2030 target on forced labour. Although the primary focus of the V Global Conference is on child labour, it will also consider other elements of target 8.7. The V Global Conference will provide a forum to share state-of-the-art approaches to using inclusive education, social protection, labour inspection and other proven means to eliminate child labour, as well as forced labour and human trafficking. It will also identify emerging policy innovations that respond to the dynamic and evolving nature of the challenge. At the IV Global Conference in Argentina, many governments, social partners and others made pledges to take new measures to eliminate child labour. The V Global Conference will provide an opportunity to assess progress in implementing these pledges, as well as those made during the International Year for the Elimination of Child Labour, and to make new commitments.

As part of the Conference preparations, and in line with previous practice, tripartite regional consultations will also be convened. Five virtual tripartite regional consultations (in Africa, Arab States, Asia and the Pacific, Europe and Central Asia, and Latin America) will be held to further discuss the thematic focus of the V Global Conference and shape its agenda. They will also provide the opportunity to discuss progress towards the elimination of child labour in the region concerned, in coordination with United Nations partner agencies, and to help delegations prepare their participation to the Global Conference.

The African Union and the ILO will jointly convene the regional consultation for Africa on 18-19 November 2021
